WILL PART WITH HER BABY IN ORDER TO KEEP LITTLE GIRL

Mother Unable to Support Two Children, Wants Some Good Family to Adopt Infant Now at Sheltering Arms.

An opportunity for some family to have been married four years, perform a charitable act, and at the same time secure for itself an additional member that gives fair promise of developing into a healthy and robust man, is now afforded by a mother who at present is in the care of the Sheltering Arms Hospital. The mother is without means of support. She has two children, and is willing to have her young son born last Thursday, adopted into some substantial family.

The child is a fine specimen of young babyhood, weighing twelve and one-half pounds when born. The mother can furnish references as to her character and standing from residents of her former home at North Garden, Albemarle County. Any one desiring to do so may see the child and its mother by calling at the hospital where they now are.

rebels, the United States will be compelled to intervene.

The pending presidential campaign furnishes another perplexing problem in connection with the situation. The President is well aware that he will be accused of stirring up a foreign war to further his campaign for reelection if he decides to call an extra session of Congress to consider the advisability of intervening in Mexican affairs. Mr. Taft will not, however, let this phase of the problem deter him from calling a special session in case he decides a session is necessary to protect the lives and property of Americans and foreigners in Mexico.

Small Army on Border.

Washington, September 7.—With the ordering today of the Ninth Cavalry from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, and the Thirtieth Cavalry from Fort Riley, Kansas, back within the next three days will have 5,000 regulars guarding the Mexican border—a small army. Even more troops may be sent to patrol the 1,700 miles of international boundary. In the opinion of army officers, devoted to maintaining order, the administration was slow in sending additional troops to the border, fearing that a military demonstration of large size would encourage the armed Mexican revolutionists, who are anxious to secure American intervention in case they cannot overturn the Madero government.

As soon as Major-General Wood, chief of staff, learned today from General Steyer, in command of the border patrol, that Salazar was an international boundary monument No. 427 with 1,000 mounted followers, he lost no time in getting President Taft on the long distance telephone at Beverly to get the President's approval for sending more troops. The President quickly gave his consent. Then telegrams were sent to Steyer asking where the troops should be sent. Steyer had earlier in the day made an urgent request for reinforcements. Members of the general staff were awaiting to-night a reply from Steyer. As soon as this reply is received the troops will be loaded on trains and sent to the border. With them will go 100 trains for use as an aid to the cavalry.

The Ninth Cavalry is a colored regiment.

There are already between 2,000 and 3,000 cavalry on the border with something over 1,000 infantry and a battery of field artillery. The Second Cavalry is at Fort Riley, the Thirtieth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, the Thirtieth Cavalry at points in New Mexico, Arizona and Texas, the Fourteenth at Big Bend, Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Fort McIntosh. The Twenty-second Infantry is quartered in the vicinity of El Paso with the Third Field Artillery and the Tenth Infantry quartered at points in California and a portion of it is at Yuma, Arizona.

Issuance of orders permitting the exportation of arms and ammunition to Canada, Sonora, Mexico, for the use of Americans there in case they have occasion to defend themselves, is taken as positive information that the State Department is convinced that the Mexican government has lost all control in Northern Mexico.

American army officers who have sized up the situation say that it would take two years and over 100,000 American troops to pacify Mexico in case of intervention. This is one of the reasons why, in the opinion of officials here, President Taft will decline to order intervention except as a last resort.

May not Press Request.

Washington, September 7.—While the Mexican government already has begun negotiations through its embassy here for permission to send its troops through Texas and Arizona to the State of Sonora, such a request may not be pressed because heavy reverses suffered by the rebels in that section. Word was received at the embassy today that sufficient troops were at Nogales and Chihuahua to protect American life and property.

In the face of the American side, the United States troops are unable to pursue the raiders when they retreat into Mexican territory. If the American defending force were supported by a sufficient Mexican force, the raiders could be caught between them and the outrages could be stopped.

As Ambassador Wilson has strongly urged the Mexican government to place a sufficient number of troops in Sonora to protect the American interests, it is assumed that the United States is prepared to allow passage for Mexican troops through American territory, for that purpose.

An indication that the Mexican government is likely to make such a request is the fact that the United States of the Mexican Senate without whose authorization President Madero cannot send troops out of Mexico. It will be at least a week before the Senate can be convened.

There is present for the passage of Mexican troops through American territory. In the late Madero rebellion forces were sent through Arizona and California to protect the American dikes and irrigation works on the Colorado River in Lower California.

War Department advises says General Salazar is being held responsible for the rebel raids on this side of the line. In the skirmish yesterday on the Culberson ranch, American soldiers captured a Mexican rebel, who says Salazar had ordered the men across the line to round up beef for his command. General Steyer has dispatched Troop C of the Ninth Cavalry to the trouble. Troop B, Fourth Cavalry, has gone from Fort Huachuca, Arizona, to reinforce the patrol.

Acting upon President Taft's authority, the Treasury Department to-day authorized the exportation into Mexico of 100 rifles and 10,000 cartridges for the use of Americans in the protection of their lives and property. The arms will be forwarded to the consular agent at Cananea for distribution.

Agua Prieta Avoids Attack.

Douglas, Ariz., September 7.—Agua Prieta, the Mexican town opposite Douglas, avoids an attack to-morrow by more than 500 rebels, who are marching toward the border. Couriers arriving today from a point fifty miles to the south report that the rebels looted the Guadalupe ranch, taking 400 horses and arms and provisions. The 500 rebels camped there last night and early today started for Agua Prieta, their leader, Troop Salazar, avowing his intention to attack the border town.

On a street separates Agua Prieta and Douglas, and in the event of an attack the American city would be in danger of stray bullets. Agua Prieta is protected by only 100 Federal troops and two machine guns.

NORFOLK HAS TWO CITY ATTORNEYS

Cabell Refuses to Surrender Office to New Mayor's Appointee.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., September 7.—Norfolk now has the distinction of having two city attorneys. Colonel George C. Cabell was appointed over a year ago for a term of two years, but the Council failed either to confirm or refuse to confirm the appointment. To-day Captain W. R. Maye, the new Mayor, appointed George C. Cabell as his city attorney. But the Council says he will not vacate till his two years are up.

It was reported several months before the election that the reason the Council did not act upon the appointment of Colonel Cabell was because it anticipated the election of Mayor H. H. Cabell. Thus, on the whole, the watch-dog and the election of a man who would appoint a city attorney from the ring faction.

It is now believed that Colonel Cabell's determination to make a determined effort to hold the office is in now the motive of the organization for effect in the approaching municipal campaign.

Statements With Regard to the Accuracy of

can best be indicated in terms of "beats." Every backward or forward turn of the balance wheel is a beat. There are five beats to a second, and with a magnifying glass over the seconds hand of a Hamilton Timekeeper one can count all five of these beats as the hand moves a second. A Hamilton Watch makes 157,680,000 beats in a year. It is interesting in this connection to note that a watch which may lose fifteen or twenty beats per month during the summer, when the owner of the watch is engaged in more energetic pursuits, will promptly begin to pick up as cold weather advances and the individual settles down to a more sedentary life. Thus, on the whole, the watch considered from the end of one year to the end of the next, will be found pretty accurate at any given time.

Let us show you a Hamilton.

HE REDUCED 57 POUNDS

New Method of Flesh Reduction Proven Astonishingly Successful.
Johnson, Pa., Sept. 7.—Investigation has fully established that Hon. H. T. Steyer of this city, has reduced his weight fifty-seven pounds in an incredibly short time by wearing a simple, invisible device, weighing less than an ounce. This, when worn as directed, acts as an infallible flesh reducer, dispensing entirely with dieting, medicines and exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this easy means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Prof. A. J. Burns, of No. 17 West Thirtieth Street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him.
